

HEADLINE NEWS & LEADS

As you can see, a large number of news outlets across the country ran the Associated Press story of our Official Launch where Donald Trump told America, "Let's make this the #1 network marketing company anywhere."

But that's just the beginning. Now we've got our own PR campaign planned.

The Trump Network PR campaign is designed to invite millions of Americans to call us or visit our website to learn more about our life changing products and plan for financial freedom.

Our lead-generating PR plan is ready to roll out in proportion to the number of established Trump Network Core Cities that will ensure "no lead is left behind."

At this point, expect to see more leads in the coming days, weeks, and months. So be prepared. When the leads start rolling in, we need you to answer the call. But remember, leads are just a part of building your business. Even more important are who you know and whom you talk to.

Discover the difference between opportunity and success.
